More than a decade ago, Taseer Badar founded ZT Wealth and began forging strong partnerships with clients who were seeking a comprehensive resource for financial freedom based on traditional, well-planned investing. Through the years, ZT Wealth's proven track record of financial success for its clients has garnered local and global recognition.

As the enterprise has grown, ZT Wealth has prided itself on making sure its clients' needs and financial interests are best addressed, so it was a natural step to take this company of service to another level. Thus the ZT Wealth Sapphire Group was born. Separate from ZT Wealth, the Sapphire Group reigns in its industry and has an image all its own. Located in the Galleria area of Houston, the private office offers white-glove wealth-management services for its elite clients.

With the company's distinctive opportunities as a wealth-management, private equity-driven company, ZT Wealth's advancements in the health-care industry have been a significant force. ZT Wealth's Altus Healthcare Management Services (HMS) has taken over several arms of health care and has spread into territories that cover not only the greater Houston area, but now all of Texas. In a health-care industry that changes every day, Altus HMS has been able to stay ahead of every curve and its operations have not been, and will not be, affected negatively.

Understanding the importance of the availability to health-care services through its many years of supporting several foundations and nonprofit organizations, ZT Wealth has decided to launch its very own Altus Foundation. The mission of the foundation is to develop resources for patients in need of health-care services at an Altus facility by utilizing philanthropic support as well as patient and community educational programs. At the 2012 ZT Wealth Toast to Living Well gala, Altus Foundation was the recipient of the funds raised, which totaled more than $35,000.

For more than a dozen years, the financial and business experts at ZT Wealth have partnered with their clients to create, sustain and distribute wealth through a range of traditional, alternative, and equity-focused investments. Founded as a one-man operation, ZT Wealth has grown into a thriving institution backed by an advisory board and full support team, providing the resources to satisfy both your investment goals and risk tolerance for your business and personal portfolios.

Clients are able to diversify their portfolios with ZT Wealth's access to profitable projects not normally available to individual investors. In 2012, they raised more capital than ever, enabling them to reach an all-time record. A 2013 forecast shows that this record will be broken once again. Examples of their successful private-equity offerings are Shadow Creek Business Center and Global Properties ZT Wealth.

ZT Wealth has international resources to purchase, lease and manage turnkey residential and commercial properties. Through their strategic alliances they are opening the world of opportunity to their client-investors with both health care and real estate investments in the United States and abroad.

ZT Wealth forges strong partnerships with both their client-partners and the banking community. Through the years they have created a powerful network of banking relationships that enable them to advocate for their clients to get the most competitive rates available.

Altus Healthcare Management Services (Altus HMS) is a network of progressive physicians collaborating to achieve professional and financial growth through the creation, promotion and management of leading-edge health care facilities. They are a company by physicians and for physicians with a management team consisting of exceptional medical and financial specialists.

Despite a rise in health care spending, physicians suffer from a steady decline of professional fee distributions. Nonetheless, physicians continue to treat more patients and take on additional liability without a rise in compensation. Recognizing this inequity, the determined group of medical and financial specialists at ZT Wealth united to establish Altus HMS to ensure the health care dollar benefits healthcare professionals. ZT Wealth handles the daily business management so doctors can concentrate on what they do best: medical care. This unique medical business model is in successfully operating in multiple locations throughout Texas and has potential for worldwide application.

The Altus philosophy is simple: empowering physicians results in better healthcare and better business. By engaging physicians as key stakeholders in their health care management strategy, Altus HMS and ZT Wealth can deliver professional and financial benefits in return as well as make significant advancements through collaboration. The outcome is better care for patients. Altus HMS currently has a network of 800 physicians and selectively is growing.
