THE COMPANY

MOGAS is known for partnering with its customers to meet the ever-increasing challenges of severe-service applications. This has been their approach since 1973, when Louis Mogas founded the company in Houston, Texas.

MOGAS provides isolation and control valve solutions and engineering services for severe service applications in power, mining, oil & gas, refining, chemical/petrochemical and specialty industries. Severe service is defined as: extreme temperatures, high pressures, abrasive particulates, acidic products, heavy solids build-up, critical plant safety, large pressure differentials, velocity control and noise control.

Their portfolio of products includes floating and trunnion ball designs for quarter-turn isolation, with custom trim designs for flow control. Valve sizes range from 1/2 to 42 inch, and pressure classes up to ASME 4500. Engineering services are available for project support, offering application-specific valve designs and pre-engineered valve systems. Complete product support includes a totally customizable valve purchase and service plan.

Due to continuous years of R&D, coating improvements, proven manufacturing techniques and application experience, MOGAS offers an unprecedented application-specific PERFORMANCE GUARANTEE—plus a Lifetime Warranty on materials and workmanship—on all their valves.

MOGAS is a global, privately held company of 250 employees, with 80 reps across 50 countries. Its 15-acre campus in Houston has over 66,000 square feet of space dedicated to manufacturing, service and repair, and a separate 3,000 square foot precision cleaning facility. Additional authorized sales and repair centers are in China, Australia, Canada, South America, Africa, The Middle East and Europe; each staffed with MOGAS-trained technicians who provide the same high level of service, on-site assistance and engineering support found at our corporate service center in Houston.
